PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Recently my husband Phil and I enjoyed a lovely, somewhat mystical, holiday on the coast in northern NSW. During the drive, we passed through Glen Innes. I noticed a sign on a building that said "Celtic Capital of Australia".

We stopped so I could briefly investigate. I learned that a lot of Scottish, Welsh and British people had settled in the area and they'd applied for this title as a tourist attraction. We checked the area out some more on our return journey.

In 1992 some local men had gone out into the bush and selected 38 granite rocks. Many of the rocks had to be split to size to create Standing Stones, following the same layout as the English Stonehenge. The rocks were positioned to allow the first rays of morning sun to enter the circle at the summer solstice and the last rays of the evening sun at the winter solstice. The Standing Stones were sited on parkland on a hill overlooking the town, next to a Crofter's (Scottish farmer) cottage.

I dowsed the henge and found that the energy was very good.

The DSV has received a number of requests from people wanting to learn more about hands-on dowsing at our meetings. As a result we are changing our format for the next meeting. We will have "Corners for Training and Inspiration".

Looking forward to seeing you and some friends at the DSV on Sunday 18 October at 1.45 pm ahead of a 2.00 pm start.

Lyn Wood, President

OUR NEXT MEETING

For our next meeting on Sunday 18 October, we will be demonstrating hands-on practical dowsing. A number of DSV Members will share their specialised knowledge about their particular ways of dowsing. You'll have an opportunity to learn more about dowsing with pendulums, rods and wizzes – and also have the chance to ask lots of questions.

Some of the topics to be covered include:

- The Basics of Learning Dowsing
- Dowsing for Vitamins and Auras
- Map Dowsing
- Property Dowsing
- Advanced Dowsing methods for healing and transforming relationships, situations, weather.
- And even more.

With our "Corners for Training and Inspiration" approach this is an ideal opportunity for people new to dowsing to discover more about it.

OUR LAST MEETING

In Part 2 of his fascinating presentation on “Water Awareness”, Tony Hill did a brief recap as a reminder of the significance of having gratitude for water.

Tony introduced a lot of practical dowsing and included water samples from various parts of Melbourne. It was a happy day and Tony’s talk was enthusiastically received.

GEORGIE’S BABY

With thank to DSV Life Member, Mick Moran, for another inspiring contribution (Ed).

Over the years I’ve done many healings on quite a range of subjects. While I have done some healing on animals such as cats and dogs, usually my healing work is for people. Those I’ve worked for range in age from the very young, through to the very old. Then earlier this year I received an email from a friend, Tania, and in the email she said her niece, Georgie, had just found out she was pregnant. Now this is usually a time of great happiness and excitement, but in this case, in addition to those joyful feelings, I learned that there was also a great deal of stress and worry.

Georgie’s pregnancy was totally unexpected, and the stress and worry came about because Georgie had already celebrated her forty-second birthday. She and her husband were very concerned the baby may be handicapped in some way. She already had two children many years ago, and in both cases those pregnancies had been difficult.

Tania asked if I could “Tune In” to the unborn baby and see if I could pick up anything out of the ordinary. She also mentioned the baby was only 16 weeks into its 40 week journey. Alarm bells started ringing in my head at this request. At 2:30 am that night I still couldn’t get this out of my head, so I finally asked myself, “Should I check out this baby”? The reply came back as a Yes. But first I thought I’d check out Georgie and see how she was going. The only thing I could detect was that her energy levels were a little low. So apparently Georgie was doing well, in spite of the circumstances. Now for the big test. Could I make some kind of contact with the unborn baby?

The answer to this was a Yes. The contact came in as clearly as a bell and I felt a very strong connection. In fact the contact was one of the strongest I had ever detected. Yet I’d had no idea this was even possible, and for it to be so unbelievably strong came as a great surprise. I found myself very relaxed and at peace which was also surprising. I had never had this happen before. I sometimes feel relaxed and peaceful after I’ve done a healing, but until that moment, it had never happened before a healing.

I thought this was so strange and almost unbelievable, as the baby was such a tiny little human, yet to be born. I knew there likely to be many answers available. I was very concerned about the answers I may receive.

The next morning I thought I’d send Tania an email explaining what had happened the night before. But the moment I started writing the email, the contact with the baby came back. And it was as strong as the contact I’d had during the night. By now I knew the baby needed help. However as this was all new to me, I wasn’t sure what sort of healing to send.

I thought about this for some time, trying to decide how to go about the healing. In the end I decided to do some overall healing, in the hope it would correct anything that was not quite right. I asked that whatever healing energy this baby needed be sent, and I also sent love, peace and light from the universe. I asked for correction of any problems that this baby may be facing and for he or she to be born in good health. When this was over the connection was lost.

I felt on such a high from this unusual experience. I believe the baby and I exchanged spiritual energy with each other, and I was left feeling so grateful for the experience. I felt it was now up to the universe to determine how the baby would progress.

Tania told Georgie of my contact with her unborn baby, and how it was incredibly strong. Georgie breathed a sigh of great relief, now believing that the baby definitely wanted to be here, and was okay. She felt it would help her deal with any other stress during the pregnancy.

I would like to be able to say that I kept in touch with Tania about Georgie’s pregnancy, but to be honest, I completely forgot all about it. All I’d heard was that the amniocentesis test came back negative for Down Syndrome. I was talking to Tania some months down the track, when she said Georgie was going into hospital the following week to give birth. I received an email the following week saying Georgie had delivered a beautiful little girl, and that both mother and daughter were fine.

I have no idea about the extent of healing I did for the unborn baby but the contact I had was one of the most unbelievable and fantastic things I have had in my dowsing life. I feel the baby and I both gained from this experience.

I’ve read previously that the spirit doesn’t enter a baby till close to the time of birth. Yet This little girl had a very strong spirit at just sixteen weeks. So it leads me to wonder, when does the spirit enter a body?
