PRESIDENT'S REPORT

I hope you enjoyed a break over the Christmas/New Year period. My husband and I had a week at a bushland timeshare resort which was peaceful most of the time, except for noisy neighbours. Suddenly I had a thought to commune with the trees and ask if they would be able to quieten the people. Lo and behold, the next day they moved out! Helping or coincidence? I have a friend who always calls coincidences "God's little miracles". So we had three more quiet nights, which was good for sleeping.

When weather forecasts are extreme, Heather Wilks and others have been talking to the Nature Spirits, asking for help and also dowsing to bring about more balance. It is summer but we can be grateful that we have the knowledge and tools to use when conditions become especially extreme.

While we were on holidays, my husband and I visited some goldfield areas around central Victoria in Australia. The landscape was dry and rocky, apparently good for gold, but also lonely and sad I thought. I had a sense that the area may be crying in some form of grief, after so much frantic activity, being mined as it was for so long.

It helps to remind ourselves that plants, the land, trees, animals and humans alike are all energetic beings with a lot in common. All deserve to be treated with great respect.

I hope to see you at our first meeting on 19 February. Our presenter will be Dr. Richard Presser. If you know of anyone interested in dowsing and metaphysical things generally, please invite them along.

OUR LAST MEETING

For our last meeting in November as your friendly Editor and Vice-President, I presented on "Releasing Christmas Stress".

I combined both Pendulum Dowsing and FasterEFT-style tapping to help overcome the stresses of the festive season. (Tapping is also an especially good way to help people develop confidence in their ability to dowse and trust their dowsing outcomes.)

I also led a couple of group hypnotherapy exercises (in this instance, much like guided meditation). One for Abundance and Money issues. The second for building Personal Power. Later I provided hand-outs so that people could use those exercises again for themselves.

DOWSING SUCCESS STORY

Thanks to Dawn Pearson for sharing.

This is a story about a success I had in 2016 with my dowsing skills, learnt from Heather Wilks over two years ago.

My daughter Liz was buying her first home on the Gold Coast in Queensland. I flew up from Melbourne to help her with the move.

The removalist truck was booked for early Saturday morning. On the Thursday morning the conveyancing solicitor rang Liz to say she had not received the paperwork from the bank and that we should look at moving settlement to the Tuesday. Liz said, "NO WAY!!" There were a few exchanges between all parties over a few hours. Yet, my daughter and I confidently trusted that she was moving at the weekend. Regardless of what was said or what eventuated in the meantime.

I had my pendulum with me as I was planning to show Liz my new skills first hand. Everything then came together, like clockwork.

I think the key was that neither of us ever accepted or thought for a moment that she wouldn't be moving that weekend. Our intentions were for everyone to work together for a positive outcome. Win-win for all.

Please share your own dowsing stories for this Newsletter, to encourage others to have more to trust in their own dowsing. (Editor)

FORGOTTEN ORIGIN Between a Rock and a Hard Place.

By DSV Committee member Lolita Gunning & former Committee member, Shayz Yu.en

In November 2016, we attended a Lecture and Workshop in Melbourne held by father-and-son team, Steve and Evan Strong. They presented a very interesting, often humorous and quite different story of mankind's origins – as told by the ancestors, the Ab-Original people, and from the role of the Rocks.

Over time, actual truth has been suppressed in many areas, covering health, clean energy, politics, religion, science and the real history of our origins and of this Earth. A lot of it is being disclosed now, at a faster rate than many of us can deal with. It's important to keep an open mind and use discernment about whatever we hear and even see.

A lot more information with photographs are available in Steve and Evan's book. A copy was kindly donated to the DSV library. You can find out more information about their discoveries and also order the book directly, by contacting them on their website:
