PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Since the last newsletter my husband Phil and I have moved from Bayswater to Beaconsfield. We shifted the day before the October DSV meeting so it was a scramble to make it to the meeting but somehow I managed it

I hope you all enjoyed the talk by Dennis Toop at our last meeting. It's good to have that communication with dowsters from further afield. Dennis's talk was very interesting and practical and I hope it led to some good ideas of your own. Dowsing is like other things – there are many different ideas and opinions about it, so it's important to explore it in detail and then find what works best for you. I've put some of Dennis' suggestions to good use at our new property. We've had some "teething" problems so I've scrambled any energy that was contributing. Hopefully things will continue to improve.

It was wonderful to see Mary and Fred Ward back with us again in October after Fred's illness. It was very special to have him share his insights and his knowing that he'd been helped by so many providing absent healing for him.

The next meeting on 24 November will be our last for the year. Our speaker will be renowned international dowser, Alanna Moore. I'm sure we'll all find her presentation most informative and interesting.

I hope you will continue with your dowsing and research on the internet or through books from our library over the Christmas break. We're planning another year of interesting speakers. Let us know if there's someone – or a subject – you'd like to suggest and/or if you would like to share your own dowsing experiences with us yourself.

Meanwhile, I'd like to take this opportunity to wish you a very happy Christmas and safe healthy and prosperous 2014.

Lyn Wood, President

She travels Australia extensively to teach dowsing and geomancy.

Please join us for a fascinating meeting on Sunday 24 November.

OUR LAST MEETING

When Dennis Toop, Treasurer of the South Australian Dowser's Club spoke at our October meeting we were delighted to meet his family who came to support him.

Dennis shared his experiences as part of a group dowsing of St. Peter's Cathedral in Adelaide, the capital of S.A. known as "the city of churches".

Dennis talked about his success in remotely dowsing properties that real estate agents find difficult to sell. He explained some of the detective work he uses to uncover "problem thought forms" left by previous tenants which can discourage prospective purchasers. Once those are addressed the properties sell quickly.

He also spoke about the phenomenon of Reverse Speech.

SMART METER EXPERIENCE

Another welcome contribution from DSV Life Member, Mick Moran.

There has been much written about Smart Meters over the past year or two, how harmful they are to humans and how we will all become ill once they're fitted to our homes. How much of this is true, and how much is just a media beat up? The answer to this is, I'm really not sure, but what I do know is there may be something we can all do to minimise the effects of the Smart Meters on our lives. This is my story.

Has any of this been scientifically tested? No. Does it work? I believe it does, but don't take my word for it. Try it yourself. What have you got to lose? You may be surprised by the results.

FILM: THE WATER DIVINER

Australia-based New Zealand actor Russell Crowe is about to begin shooting the feature film, "The Water Diviner" in December. It's the actor's debut as a director. The film is a fictional account based on some fact – about a man who travelled to Gallipoli in Turkey in WWI to find his two missing sons who had gone missing. He used dowsing to confirm they were alive.

The film developed from a script co-written by Andrew Anastasios Andrew Knight. Russell Crowe will take the lead role.

Let's hope that with such strong Australian and New Zealand connections that this will help to put dowsing on the map to a wider audience. (Ed.)

DOWSING STORIES

By Stephen Wagner, <http://paranormal.cabout.com>

• Emmy Kitemann, daughter of a dowser, was one of the most acclaimed dowsers in Germany. In her most famous case, she correctly dowsed the location of a mineralized spring for the village of Tegernsee. All previous drillings found only water with heavy sulfur content. Yet Kitemann accurately predicted the depth at which the water would be found as well as its iodine-rich content.

In an article published in the current issue of the peer-reviewed Journal of Scientific Exploration, a science journal with the editorial offices at Stanford University, Professor Hans-Dieter Betz, a physicist at the University of Munich, presents the results of a German government sponsored program to test and apply dowsing methods to locate water sources in arid regions.
