PRESIDENT'S REPORT

It's wonderful that we have so many contributors for this current Newsletter.

Joey Korn from Canada has kindly forwarded a piece especially for us, "Things that Go Bump in the Night", based on a longer article on his site. Richard Summers from the UK has shared an article he wrote for the British Dowsers Society. It covers some of his Australian visit this year, including the DSV field trip some of us took to Mount Dandenong to dowse the Michael and Mary Ley Lines with him.

If you'd like to be part of another field trip to Kalorama for dowsing, please let us know.

We also have a welcome contribution to this issue of the Newsletter from DSV Life Member, Mick Moran. Our condolences to Mick on the sudden passing of his wife Jenny. Our thoughts are with you and your son Steven.

Joanna Sgarioto's presentation at our last meeting was very enthusiastically received. There was such great interest in particular about her encounter with an Unidentified Flying Object (UFO) when she was growing up. It opened up further discussion on UFOs generally.

We have a change of pace for the August meeting as we welcome Kevin Hughes to the DSV for the first time. Kevin will bring a rural perspective to his subject of dowsing and it promises to be of great interest.

We are often asked to recommend a dowser for water divining, but unfortunately we don't readily have any to refer. The emphasis at the DSV centres mainly on healing and changing energy. If you dowse for water or know of someone else who does, please get in touch with the Committee.

Thanks to Stefan Bock, DSV Committee Member for helpfully offering assistance until we find a new DSV Secretary. Please contact me if you are willing to offer your services as the DSV Secretary. There isn't a great deal involved, however combining the role with other Committee positions isn't ideal.

Looking forward to seeing you on Sunday 28 August.

Lyn Wood, *President

OUR NEXT MEETING

At our next meeting on Sunday 28 August we are pleased to be welcoming a new speaker to the DSV. Kevin Hughes, a farmer from Koonwarra, near Leongatha in rural Victoria. His topic is "Soil to Soul".

In the early 1970s Kevin learned water divining from his father. Later he learned to use a pendulum to help him to find the best remedies for the farm's animal and soil health problems when conventional treatments weren't working. Kevin also learned kinesiology muscle testing as well.

Kevin Hughes

He found that meditating played a big role in his development, helping to get better clarity for dowsing questions.

Kevin will speak about how he came to see Soil as being much more than dirt. Instead he views Soil as Mother Earth (holder of life forces) and the Soul as the connector between Mother Earth energy and the Spirit or Divine Intelligence.

He believes an open heart is our connection to the intelligent, imaginal realms of nature, our souls and to spirit.

Illustrating the marked difference

Kevin dowses as a way of shifting awareness from the ego and thinking to heart-centred awareness and to gain direct information to proceed in a more caring, holistic way. He feels that as farmer custodians there is a need to heal a farm's soil which leads to a journey of self healing and the realisation of the connectedness and interdependence of all life.

OUR LAST MEETING

Joanna Sgarioto's presentation at the June meeting was lively and fascinating. She shared many aspects of her journey in life, illustrating that energy is dynamic and how our lives take on unexpected shifts.

Joanna shared the amazing story of her Unidentified Flying Object (UFO) experience aged 12. She was at home with her two younger brothers and the memory of it is still vivid today. It sparked considerable interest at the DSV meeting. Following the afternoon tea break the theme continued.

THINGS THAT GO BUMP IN THE NIGHT

By Joey Korn, global leader in dowsing.

Do ghosts really exist? After people die, can they continue to hang around a person or a place? Can entities cause problems for us? Can paranormal activity be real? After dowsing and teaching as my profession for almost twenty years, with a primary focus on personal energy clearing and space clearing, my answer to those questions is a resounding "Yes!" This aspect of my space clearing work has become my specialty.

After doing thousands of space clearings, both on-site and remote, I find two primary causes of paranormal experiences:

1. Earthbound Spirits
2. Interference Energy

DOWSING DOWN UNDER

By Richard Summers

Richard Summers, founder of Essential St Edmunds and former Trustee of The British Society of Dowsers, took the opportunity whilst visiting his family in Australia to meet with dowsers in Sydney and in Melbourne.

Fresh from taking the Aboriginal Heritage Tour at the Botanic Gardens, next to the stunning Sydney Opera House, I met up for lunch with Noel Jordan, his fiancée Kyoko and Lyn McLean.

I discovered that dowsing is a minority interest and viewed with scepticism in Australia in much the same way that it is in Britain.

The big difference between dowsing in Britain and dowsing in Australia is the Aboriginal element. Apparently, there have been numerous phases of official rejection and subjugation of the Aboriginal culture, its dream times, sun lines and sacred sites, ever since the European "invasion" in the late 1780s.

Although the Aboriginals have now been recognised as equal citizens in Australia, they are still a generally disadvantaged minority.

Moving on to Melbourne, Australia, I met up with a group of dedicated, knowledgeable and enthusiastic dowsers from the Dowsing Society of Victoria. A wide-ranging discussion took place covering our many common interests in dowsing and particularly in the many relationships between dowsing and the Aboriginal cultures. Many Australian dowsers believe that the Aboriginal "dream time" is linked to the higher level knowledge of their extra-terrestrial predecessors and has much in common with the higher level spirituality of many world religions.

A high point of the day was our discovery of a crossing of the Michael and Mary earth energy lines that also run through southern England.

Later we visited the William Rickets Sanctuary near Kalorama which conserves the work of William Rickets (1898 to 1993) and his passive campaigning for the Aboriginal cultures.

The DSV gave me a much deeper understanding and respect for the Aboriginal cultures. This, and the discovery of the Michael and Mary earth energy lines at Mount Dandenong, gave me great encouragement for my journey ahead to Uluru (Ayres Rock).

SPIRITUAL ENERGY

By Mick Moran, DSV Life Member

What is spiritual energy? I guess if you asked ten people this question, you'd get ten different answers. I believe we are all born with a spiritual energy, but it develops more as we get older and experience the world around us.

As I became more at ease with dowsing I realised it's possible to tune into people and places and get basic readings on energy levels. I learnt to clear the non-beneficial energies and replace them with good healing, peaceful beneficial energies. What I didn't know, was how important a person's spiritual energy was. But I was soon going to find out.
