DSV philosophy: Through awakening consciousness, we are empowered with knowledge and skills to unconditionally serve others.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

So many people I've spoken to lately have said that they've realised they need to take time out for themselves. Our tanks are drained because over time stresses haven't been addressed. In fact, they've generally been ignored or glossed over. Unless we refill our tanks by resting, and having fun, we can't enjoy life, let alone give much to others.

To paraphrase Ian White, founder of the Australian Bush Flower Essences (ABFE), an illness or physical issue is a tap on the shoulder – an indicator that something is out of balance on an emotional or spiritual level or that something in our lifestyle is a problem. The location in the body provides clues to indicate what it is in your life that needs to be addressed.

Another wise Australian, Inna Segal, wrote the fabulous resource book "The Secret Language of Your Body", which really points to the root of physical and emotional problems.

Of course, many cultures have been aware for thousands of years about the significant relationships between symptoms and parts of the body. Kidneys for fear, lungs for grief and so on.

International Dowsing Day has been held for about 10 years around 5 May to mark Hamish Miller's birthday (1927-2010).

Hamish Miller was a renowned dowser from the UK who followed ley lines and wrote books on them, particularly the Michael & Mary lines that connect holy places to do with the St Michael churches in the UK. Hamish's book, "The Sun and the Serpent" explains it very clearly.

This year's International Dowsing Day (IDD) was held via Zoom.

In honour of IDD and Hamish Miller, the DSV arranged a few dowsing field trips in parks in earlier years.

It was an attempt to introduce people to dowsing energies in nature. However, for various reasons, these meet-ups weren't very successful, so we didn't continue.

Although most mandates have been lifted that have previously kept us from meeting in person at the Mount Waverley Community Centre, we are holding our next meeting via Zoom again. We had already booked Juanita Smith from Sydney. I hope you can join us for her presentation on Hypnotherapy. If you don't use a computer, perhaps you can visit a friend to watch together.

For our July meeting we are expecting to be able to meet in person again in Mount Waverley. It will be good to be able to meet up with our fellow dowsers.

The three recordings of our previous Zoom presenters are now easy to locate and watch via the DSV website: www.dsv.org.au under the heading VIDEOS:

Be great to see you via Zoom for our May meeting for Juanita Smith's presentation.

OUR NEXT MEETING

We are delighted that Juanita Smith is our presenter in May. Juanita is a clinical Hypnotherapist from Activate Hypnotherapy in Sydney. She specialises in helping people overcome addictions and underlying trauma.

Her presentation to the DSV will be an introduction to Hypnosis. Juanita will explain how we can enable mastery in all areas of our lives by working directly with the unconscious mind.

Juanita's presentation will include a group hypnotherapy process for Healing, Letting go of the Old and Being Ready for Change and New Beginnings.

Juanita is generously offering a PDF version of her book to each person who participates in the DSV Zoom session on 29 May. Her book is titled, "Is It A Habit Or An Addiction?"

This promises to be a fascinating DSV meeting via Zoom on 29 May and we hope you can join us.

OUR LAST MEETING

We are pleased that Martine Negro, the Vice-President of The Dowsters Society of NSW Inc., presented to us via Zoom on Sunday 27 March.

Martine's presentation focused on "the 4 Steps of Energetic Management" for optimal health. This was based on her book, "Hacking the Well-Being Code through Energetic Intelligence" (2016).

Martine believes that through the synergy of ancient wisdom and the latest quantum physics research findings, we can establish a true "HEALTH" care system where each of us can re-empower ourselves with energetic management plus full engagement with our various practitioners in the process of achieving wellness.

GUIDED VISUALISATION FOR GRATITUDE

Heather Wilks - The Tucson Dowsers in Arizona kindly invited me to prepare a special guided visualisation for their presentation on International Dowsing Day (IDD) on 8 May 2022. There wasn't time for the short introductory dowsing that was planned, however it's included in the full copy of the May Newsletter.

CONTRIBUTE TO OUR NEWSLETTER

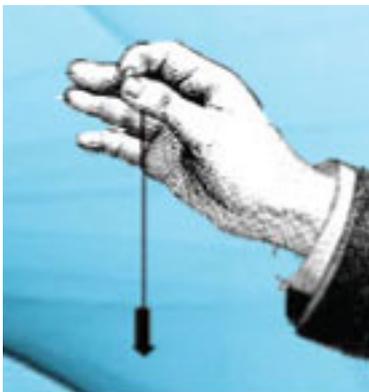

No doubt you have regular dowsing practices that you return to often because they work. We invite you to share your own dowsing successes, including your every-day ones that you may perhaps take for granted. By sharing, you can inspire others with their own dowsing.

So, please do share your personal dowsing experiences to appear in the DSV Newsletter. If it suits, you can email me with the gist of what you do, I'll write it up and if you'd prefer to remain anonymous, that's perfectly fine.

I always appreciate contributions and DSV Committee Member, Bev Ellison is so helpful in providing items of interest.

If you come across some interesting information for me to include, please send it to me (provided you've requested approval to reprint it). Just email me: heather@ohnaturale.com [Ed.]

DSV MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL

Even though we haven't been able to meet in person, the benefits of DSV Membership continue, with so many shared connections. If you haven't renewed your Membership please do so now for 2022. You can pay by cheque or money order to the DSV and send to our newish post box:
