PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Everyone who joined us at our last meeting appeared to thoroughly enjoy it all. We gained lots of interesting information from our presenter, Michèle Wolff, who spoke on gut health.

The next meeting will be a favourite theme, one that we are asked for time and again ... the Panel format. This gives you the opportunity to ask questions and discuss topics that you may have wondered about. Please have your questions ready for help from those able to share their experiences.

I'm hoping we may encourage at least two new people to stand for the Committee at our Annual General Meeting (AGM) which we are required to hold this month. If you'd like to join our merry band, please come forward. For the DSV to continue, we must be able to welcome some fresh, new faces to our team.

Dowsing is so valuable in our lives and the DSV is here to assist and teach those wanting to learn. Anyone can develop this skill. Heather and I both run workshops so please speak to us if you are interested.

Lyn Wood, *President

OUR NEXT MEETING

We aim to keep the formalities short at our AGM which is to be held on Sunday 28 May. We're all keen to move onto the day's main feature. To be eligible to vote or nominate for the DSV Committee, you need to be a paid-up member. We invite you to consider standing for a position yourself. New ideas and new energy are always welcome at the DSV. As Lyn Wood explained in her President's Report above, it has now become essential for our future that we have new people joining us on the Committee. It will allow those who need to step aside from the DSV Committee to do so without undue strain and stress.

We're a friendly bunch and joining us gives you the opportunity to contribute directly to the DSV and find out more about us.

Also as Lyn said, for our May meeting we're arranging a Panel of dowsers who have particular expertise. It's a popular format, so please bring a friend along to enjoy the day's sharing.

Whenever we've presented such Panels before they've produced some interesting discussions. It means you can come along and ask dowsing questions, knowing one of our experts will be able to give you sound advice.

OUR LAST MEETING

Michèle Wolff was our guest speaker for the meeting on 26 March. She covered so much valuable information on nutrition and was enthusiastically received by everyone.

Michèle has a wide range of qualifications, and is a senior lecturer with over 20 years' experience in natural medicine, specialising in digestion, detox and food as medicine. Michèle is the author of 'Digestive Solutions' – 101 Proven Methods to Solve your tummy problems naturally.

Michèle spoke about how we can master our own personal digestive health to create a healthier lifestyle. She focused on many aspects.

SMART ENOUGH?

Thanks to DSV Life member, Mick Moran for contributing this article.

I recently received a message from my friend Veronica asking if I could do some healing work on her. I knew Veronica had been very unwell, so it didn't surprise me she needed some help. I have seen her a number of times over the past few years, so she knows what my healing work is all about.

While she was talking to me, I noticed she was wearing a wrist watch. I didn't take much notice of this at first, but my attention kept going back to the watch. I realised that the only thing I was focusing on now was in fact the watch. So, I had to ask about it.

Veronica told me it was a smart watch that did many things, including keeping a record of her heart rate, how far she walks each day, and how many calories she burns. It could even tell her when she'd received a message on social media. And of course, it could tell the time. I guess that's why they're known as smart watches. Perhaps in the future they could even bake a bloody cake.

The energy of Veronica's body was now much more peaceful and positive. All the heaviness and negativity I had originally detected had gone. Any anxiety and stress had now been removed, which was exactly what I was hoping to achieve.

I then took the watch and placed it between my hands. Immediately I could feel the harmful frequencies being emitted. Now all I had to do was remove them. It now felt much better. In fact I could no longer sense/feel anything harmful related to it.

I've owned a smart phone for many years, but I have never detected anything harmful coming from it. It is possible of course that there are some that are affected by these various devices. If this is the case, then it would be very difficult for such people living in today's world. It rather raises the question, are these smart watches, for example, smart enough?
