DSV philosophy: Through awakening consciousness, we are empowered with knowledge and skills to unconditionally serve others.

Next meeting – on Sunday 2 October 2022 – in person

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Many of us were saddened, though not surprised at the passing of Mary Ward on 24 July. Mary and Fred (who left us in January 2021) were like a combined rock foundation for the DSV. They leave us with so many wonderful memories. Both now greatly missed. R.I.P.

Meanwhile it was so lovely to finally be able to see members and friends in person again for our meeting in July. We later learned that Mary actually chose to pass during that meeting – seemingly wanting to keep a weather eye out for us as she left.

For those of us who did catch up and chat in person it felt was really wonderful.

Last year when I was asked to dowse a property in Point Cook in outer Melbourne, I had to say I couldn't travel the distance due to my fractures. Instead I map dowsed and found and cleared a few problems. My client called again recently and I was able to visit to dowse her house in person.

One of our newer members, Bronwyn Bain who lives near my client came with me to learn what I do. We had a fantastic time dowsing and clearing and discussing energies. It was great to compare notes. I'm so pleased that Bronwyn will be the speaker for our next DSV meeting on 2 October. She has so much fascinating information to share.

Just to remind you, the four recordings of our previous Zoom presenters are now easy to locate and watch via the DSV website: www.dsv.org.au under the heading VIDEOS:

Meanwhile I'm looking forward to seeing you in person at our meeting on 2 October.

Lyn Wood, President

OUR NEXT MEETING

For our next meeting on 2 October, we are pleased to be welcoming Bronwyn Bain, a new DSV member. She has been exploring different facets of the earth and energy for about 20 years.

Bronwyn did a Masters in Fine Art around the subject of the "Earth Healing" us. She was a lecturer in Design at UNSW College of Fine Art and continues to paint and research.

Her particular interest in healing the earth is more relevant than ever, given recent times. She believes there is little point in healing each other when we are standing, sleeping and moving on an earth which is being abused.

Bronwyn has also researched some details about Ancient Wisdom, gathered from people she stayed with in the Ecuadorian Amazon.

As dowers familiar with using our abilities to connect to Source, this promises to be a truly fascinating DSV presentation. It would be a good idea to bring a friend or two.

OUR LAST MEETING

Rev. Domenic Liistro from The Victorian Spiritualists' Union (VSU) was a welcome new speaker for the DSV. He was enthusiastically received by all. He shared many fascinating insights from his 30 years' experience as a Spiritualist Minister.

Domenic explained the origins and importance of the VSU, which has been continuously serving spiritualism since 1870.

On the VSU site there is a video of a talk Domenic gave in July 2021 which provides further insights into the breadth of his philosophy and experiences and some of what he shared with us at the DSV meeting in July 2022: www.vsu.org.au

VALE MARY WARD

Mary Ward passed away at the Healesville Hospital on Sunday 24 July. Her elder daughter Julianne, was holding her hand, while her younger daughter Susan was on FaceTime from Hong Kong.

Many of us felt privileged to have been invited earlier to send Mary messages about our connection and fond memories. It was a wonderful way to make contact when she wasn't able to receive many visitors when her health was fading.

Julianne read over 40 messages to her across quite a few days and later printed them into a booklet which was available for viewing at Mary's funeral on 2 August. That was held just a few days short of Mary's 90th birthday. For years her age had been a closely guarded secret. She would only admit to being "29 and some months". Fred was fond of mumbling "that's many, many months".

Mary was known for enjoying the adventures of exploring, learning and growing. Among other things, she was a Sound Therapist, and together with Fred, produced the wonderful Pure Sound Essence range based on Pythagorean healing energies.

For many years the Wards have underpinned the DSV – at one time they held Committee Meetings in their home in Mount Waverley on Friday nights. They showered us with wonderful hospitality. So many agree that this is the ending of a very special DSV era.

REAL LIFE X-FILES

Thanks to DSV Life Member, Bev Ellison for this article on how Fiction Can Foretell Reality – sourced from Fate Magazine, May 1977.

Reality shifts (sometimes called coincidences) take on many guises. Fiction, for example, sometimes foretells reality. Were the authors of prophetic works inspired by altered perceptions of reality?

The astonishing ability of fiction to sometimes accurately foreshadow what physically occurs happens more often than you might think.

It's almost as if on some level, knowingly or unknowingly, consistently or occasionally, individuals can tap into or stumble across other dimensions of reality, as well as knowledge of a predestined or potential future.

Sourced from Fate Magazine – a US magazine about paranormal phenomena, founded in 1948.
