DSV philosophy: Through awakening consciousness, we are empowered with knowledge and skills to unconditionally serve others

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Welcome to 2025. I hope it's going to be a fabulous, joyful, healthy year for us all.

I hope you had a happy Christmas with family and or friends. I heard it said that Christmas was different last year, and it was for us, but we have to roll with the punches so to speak and enjoy ourselves as best we can. Ours was different but still very enjoyable. Since then I've enjoyed a 70th birthday party with wonderful friends and my husband and I were able to have a weekend away to celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary.

Now it's time for new beginnings. As we step into this new year what will be new for you?

Have you left behind beliefs and ideas that no longer serve you? It has been predicted that lots of things are going to fall away, making way for better things. I can already see it happening.

We need to be in touch with nature, grounded, be in the moment. Ask angels for help. The Astrology is very exciting.

I am looking forward to our first meeting for 2025. For many years we've been searching for someone to share how to dowse for underground water. I know most of you won't have the need to sink a bore, but it would be great to know how.

Through the Gippsland dowsing group, Bev has found such a water dowser. She and I met him and his wife in Mirboo North and had a fascinating chat. I think he will share more than looking for water.

I hope to see you there. Bring a friend and introduce them to our thinking.

OUR NEXT MEETING Sunday 16 February 2025

We are pleased to have a water diviner as our next presenter for the new year. We have been trying to find one to tell us about it, for years to no avail. But Bev, with her connections to the Gippsland dowsers came across John Hattam. She and I went to Mirboo North to meet with him and his wife Lisa, and are very excited about what we will learn from him. Here he introduces himself:

Hello my name is John Hattam and my divining journey began when I started my own Engineering business many years ago. I was fabricating a stockyard when the owner said "You can't dig there".

"Why I asked "? and he showed me how to divine water using a piece of wire.

From that moment I was fascinated how divining worked.

John's wife adds - John is a "thinker" and very intuitive, he can work out many engineering projects but the "unknown" always intrigues him.

He questions every opportunity to increase his skills and enquiring mind.

Therefore, John is entirely self-taught.

No degrees, no certificates to show you, just knowledge acquired along the way of life."

I hope you will come along and welcome John as he shares with us what he has learned about water divining and other dowsing.

OUR LAST MEETING

At our last meeting we were enthralled by Stephen Bock's presentation and most members expressed that they'd like him to return to continue his talk. He spoke of many things he has learned on his journey including meditation, Neuro Linguistic Programming, positivity and healers he had met at Confest, a conference for alternative lifestyles and beliefs, Melbourne School of Philosophy.

If you would like Stefan to continue his talk at another meeting please tell him or Lyn.

Sandy Brightman is a dowser, Reiki Sechim healer, writer and more.

EDITOR: As we move from 3D to 5D you may find yourself becoming more sensitive, intuitive, some of the things you may feel may not be your own. Douse for it. You will find this article interesting.

Are your emotions and attitudes your own? What about your energy levels, mental focus or illnesses? Are you being bombarded by other people's energies, even from the past?

We are all being influenced energetically on a daily basis from outside, unseen forces. These forces can be from natural earth energies, such as water lines, fault lines, geomagnetic lines or ley lines (collectively called 'geopathic stress'), energy from other people, manmade frequencies such as EMFs, microwaves or radio waves and stored frequencies in the land, house or objects. These subtle energies can be positive or negative; they can be new or very, very old. Age does not weaken them, however geopathic stress can be balanced, EMFs can be shielded and stored energies can be removed altogether.

'Psychic impressions' are stored energies left in the land, building or objects, such as furniture and jewellery. When the same thought or emotion is experienced, in the same place, over a long period of time or an extremely intense emotion is experienced at once, these emotions can be stored in the surrounding area. Then when you enter the area, you can interact on a subtle level with the stored emotion.

As a geomancer, I work with many of these subtle energies. They cannot be detected with machines and devices, but rather by the human body. Most people have had experiences of entering a room after an argument and 'knowing' something doesn't feel right. We can also detect positive energy, e.g. "I love this place, it feels so good". Sometimes we can feel a cold sensation or shiver, but usually the body detects negative stored impressions by 'gut feelings'. The ability to feel and interpret subtle energies is a talent we all have, however, most people ignore the 'not quite right' indicators of their own bodies and tend to simply avoid the negative psychic impression without ever questioning why.

An old shop and homestead I worked on in the middle of Tasmania had a negative psychic impression left in the land. When the shop was built over one hundred years ago, the negative energy penetrated the building. The impression was about 2m round, situated behind the shop counter and vibrated into the loft above. The current owners unconsciously avoided the area by always coming out from the counter and walking the long way round to the stairs. They said the area "just didn't feel right". The area always felt colder than the rest of the shop. Using my dowsing rods to tap into the energy, I found that an escaped convict had sheltered here, but was soon found by police. All the fear the convict had felt had seeped into the ground, leaving the psychic impression to last for over 100 years. Interestingly, a line of fear ran from the impression out to the paddocks, where it suddenly stopped. A lesser impression was left here where the convict had died. The original impression left in the shop .....
