DSV philosophy: Through awakening consciousness, we are empowered with knowledge and skills to unconditionally serve others

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Can you believe this is the last meeting for 2024!

Time is moving very fast indeed. So please come along and meet with other dowers and discuss ideas. Hear of our speaker's journey in dowsing. Exciting things are being planned for next year.

We're often asked for more frequent meetings but it's not possible to meet in the same way more often, so magically another option has revealed itself. Like the Gippsland group, we will meet informally between our normal meetings. This will be a chance to chat with like-minded people and dowse for important local and world events. Venues will vary, maybe in parks.

The first one will be held on Sunday 10 November 2024 at 1.30 pm in Beaconsfield. If you wish to attend please email me for the address.

I hope to see you at either, or both gatherings. Lyn Wood, President

NEXT NORMAL MEETING

Time & Date:

1.30 pm for 2.00 pm start Sunday
24 November 2024

Place:

Mount Waverley Community Centre,
Miller Crescent, Mount Waverley

(Opposite Mount Waverley Railway Station)

Melways: 70 E 1

OUR NEXT MEETING Sunday 24 November 2024

Our presenter for the next DSV meeting on 24 November 2024 is our Sound guy, Stefan Bock. He will come out from behind his camera to be up front.

He was inspired by

Lyn's talk at the last meeting to share his dowsing story. Stefan is going to talk about his introduction to dowsing which will flow on to some of his other "different" activities that have made his life positive and more fulfilling. These include Neuro-Linguistic-Programming, Melbourne School of Philosophy classes, Tao, Confest and working at Sunshine hospital.

Come along and hear it – I can't wait.

WALKING SONGLINES & LEYLINES EXPERIENCE

Two of our members, Bev and Christine recently joined the Gippsland dowers on a field trip. Here is their account of it.

Guide: Kylie from Ley Love Down [Telegram Channel]

Location: Lyrebird Forest Walk, Strzelecki Hwy, Mirboo North

Two DSV Members participants: Bev and Christine

Bev's experience:

We gathered in the basic carpark with introductions for the approx 10 participants. Our guide read aloud "Notice of Intention" that she distributed as a hand out.

A 4096Hz Tuning Fork was rung repeatedly by our Guide as she walked around our inner circle.

Selenite crystal bars were given to volunteering participants.

We were instructed to leave our phones in our cars, and to walk in a quiet focused manner whilst carrying a suitable branch to earth ourselves.

We made our way along the gentle gradient path stopping along the way at several places to observe the circular portals/gateways created by the Songlines and to observe the many faces on the tree trunks, known as Pareidolia, seeing faces in unusual places.

Our guide explained Songlines tended to wander along the landscape whereas Leylines travelled in straight lines and were made by man's energies, intentionally or not, over time.

We made our way to a natural opening of 5 pathways joining at a large old tree.

Further insights were discussed, then there was a ceremony including the use of other tuning forks and then an energetically charged object was buried onsite with our blessings.

We finally made our way back to the carpark and some participants travelled onwards to a lovely coffee stop, Lamezleigh's Cafe in Mirboo Nth.

Christine's Experience:

We travelled down from Drouin on the day and arrived at Lyrebird Forest in lovely fresh air.

We were warmly welcomed and chatted while waiting for everyone to arrive. Our guide read the "Notice of Intention" and sounded the Tuning fork that in this gorgeous open forest with tall trees resonated like a cathedral to me.

She then advised us to leave phones and to pick up a suitable branch for grounding. I had already done that as I started this habit as a kid. Who knew I was instinctively grounding, just felt fun to me, and useful in snake territory.

I volunteered for the last piece of selenite that promptly wanted to be placed by my heart.

When we stopped at our first location to see the circular openings I thought I glimpsed it but it quickly disappeared as I had the 'logical' thought it was the shadows of the trees making it.

Going further up the hill and soaking in the bush energies it became much easier to see the various circle openings.

It was fun to note the different sizes and their height from the ground.

Was it the shadows forming the circles? Who knows but I was more intrigued by why they were making them or what came first, gateway or shadows.

It was interesting to note that the pareidolia faces also became easier to see after 'settling in' to the point that they were everywhere and why couldn't everyone see the same ones?

Our guide again gave the insight that not everyone needed to see each particular one as they were messages of a type.

I enjoyed the dialog with a few 'faces' asking them to become clearer to see which they gratefully did.

Even the little yellow flowers along the way had faces.

At the large natural opening I was drawn to lean against the big central tree with eyes closed.

Unbeknownst to me our guide then performed the ritual with the tuning forks. I got a very up close experience that was magnificent full body humming.

Afterwards I wandered up one of the paths, as several of us did, picking our own journey.

The air was beautifully fresh with only light breezes and gently dancing branches.

I was drawn to humming then vocalizing as I often do when walking alone in nature, particularly at night.

For me, each place incites a different hum or song.

But what I finally noticed on that path was that they regularly become like mantras repeating the same verses... a moving meditation or communion.

Whatever, I always feel lighter and quieter for the experience.

Another question came, was I unknowingly singing on Songlines or ley lines?

Whether it was the group of like minded people, great guide, the Notice of Intention and Rituals, Grounding stick, the Tuning forks or the Selenite in my bra pocket I was grateful for the gentle ease of witnessing these natural energies.

Of course our open hearts and minds contributed greatly and I look forward to repeating this experience

We are hoping that Kylie will speak to us next year as this was such an interesting experience.

THANKS FOR MEMBERS' HELP

This edition of our newsletter highlights the help of some DSV members in speaking, writing stories and generally helping.

Since I've returned to meetings after my stroke I haven't been able to do what I used to do. Committee has stepped up to help. In the absence of Robert our Librarian, Christine & Bev have helped out there. Bev has driven me to meetings. Both Bev & Christine have helped me fold and mail the newsletters as if I had to do it with my wayward hand it would take all day.

I don't want to leave anybody out and I don't want to write a book, but suffice to say all committee have stepped up to do extra jobs that needed to be done.

I'd love to have extra articles to help me fill the newsletter and would welcome any members writing of your dowsing experiences or even talking to us about them, maybe at one of our informal get togethers. Let's share stories of dowsing to everyone. I've been sharing with my veggie stall seller at the market.

Each Friday (12 noon AEST time) Heather Wilks and fellow dowser, Frances Peterson, hold a short online dowsing session to help in raising consciousness and supporting a new Golden Age.

It begins with a Full Court of Atonement (FCOA) (based on the channelled work of Amy Jo Ellis www.courtofatonement.com)

Dowsers from the US and Canada join in on Thursdays at 7pm Pacific, 8pm Mountain, 9pm Central and 10pm Eastern time. (Until Daylight changes occur in either hemispheres.

After the dowsing, Heather provides a guided group visualisation. It's designed to encourage us to imagine how we'd like things in a new Golden Age.

A number of DSV members, along with dowsers from Australia and overseas, meet on the call which usually runs for about 20 minutes
